Final Test Observations

Chrome is the browser that I developed with, all observations will be for differences in Firefox (my normal browser).

1. Right out the gate it is obvious that Firefox has increased the size of the fonts by a good amount, pushing the entire page further down the scrollbar.
2. Bolded Fonts are cleaner and look less bolded.
3. The footer section is taller than the chrome version making the rounded corners less round.